MARIONETTE

"Scholastic symbol of creative might,
Of leading youth from darkness into light."

"You'll find where e'er you roam
That marble floors and gilded walls
Can never make a home.
But every house where love abides
And Friendship is a guest
Is surely home, and home sweet home
For there the heart can rest."

Published by
THE STUDENT BODY OF
MARION COLLEGE
MARION, INDIANA

DEDICATION

TO THE THREE SENIOR MEN OF MARION COLLEGE, WHO HAVE ACHIEVED SINGULAR DISTINCTION THROUGH THEIR LONG YEARS OF SERVICE AND DEVOTION TO THE SCHOOL, AND WHO HAVE CONTRIBUTED MUCH IN TIME, ENERGY, AND MONEY FOR THE BEAUTIFYING OF THE CAMPUS, THE STAFF DEDICATES THIS VOLUME OF THE MARIONETTE.

John D. Williams
J. Oliver Baker
Daniel W. Baker

"When buds of Spring begin to blow
In blossoms that we used to know
And lure us back along the ways
Of time's all-golden yesterdays!"

"And what is so rare as a day in June
Then, if ever, come perfect days;
Then Heaven tries earth if it be in tune,
And over it softly her warm ear lays."

"Happy the man, of mortals happiest he,
Whose quiet mind from vain desires free;
Whom neither hopes deceive, nor fears torment,
But lives at peace, within himself content."

"My heart is awed within me when I think
Of the great miracle that still goes on
In silence round me—the perpetual work
Of the creation, finished, yet renewed forever."

"I love thee when thy swelling buds appear,
And one by one their tender leaves unfold,
As if they knew that warmer scenes were near,
Nor longer sought to hide from winter's cold;
And when with darker growth thy leaves are seen
To veil from view the early robin's nest,
I love to lie beneath thy waving screen,
With limbs by summer's heat and toil oppressed;
And when the autumn winds have stripped thee bare,
And round theee lies the smooth, untrodden snow,
When naught is thine that made thee once so fair,
I love to watch thy shadowy form below,
And through thy leafless arms to look above
On stars that brighter beam when most we need their love."

"A thing of beauty is a joy forever;
Its loveliness increases; it will never
Pass into nothingness; but still will keep
A bower quiet for us, and a sleep
Full of sweet dreams, and health, and quiet breathing.
Therefore, on every morrow, are we wreathing
A flowery band to bind us to the earth,
Spite of despondence, of the inhuman dearth
Of noble natures, of the gloomy days,
Of all the unhealthy and o'er-darkened ways
Made for our searching: yes, in spite of all,
Some shape of beauty moves away the pall
From our dark spirits . . . Paths there were many,
Winding through palmy fern, and rushes fenny,
And ivy banks; all leading pleasantly
To a wide lawn, whence one could only see
Stems thronging all around between the swell
Of turf and slanting branches: who could tell
The freshness of the space of heaven above,
Edg'd round with dark tree tops? through which a dove
Would often beat its wings, and often too
A little cloud would move across the blue."

AS TIME PASSES, EVEN THE MOST VIVID EXPERIENCES GRADUALLY FADE AND BECOME OBSCURE RECOLLECTIONS OF THE PAST. LEST THIS SHOULD HAPPEN TO THE MEMORIES OF THE SCHOOL YEAR OF 1935-36 THE STAFF WISHES TO KEEP ALIVE FOR YOU THROUGH A "PICTURE-BOOK" THE THOUGHTS OF HAPPY HOURS SPENT ON THE CAMPUS OF MARION COLLEGE.

the COLLEGE

The beauty of the campus is a result of the cooperation of both faculty and students since the college was founded.

Professor A. Jones during his life time devoted much effort in making the campus more attractive and in his passing, the "mantle" has fallen on Professor Kershner, who has stimulated interest in Arbor Day observance.

On April 18, 1935 with "Sieb" as chairman, the routine of school work was laid aside and the student body was organized into groups under the leadership of the professors. Among those cooperating in this project were the classes and state clubs which planted trees and provided plants and moss for the rock garden.

Dr. J. A. Huffman presented the theological department with evergreens, while Mr. Williams gave some beautiful spruce trees for the east side of the campus and several trees for the rock garden. The bird sanctuary was greatly improved by the addition of shrubs and maple trees.

Another important feature of the day was the hamburger stand which under the supervision of Miss Snyder proved a life-saver to the half-famished workers. The success of the day with its fun, frolic, and work merits its observance until it too becomes a Marion College tradition.

"What do we plant when we plant the tree?
A thousand things that we daily see."

"How oft have I loitered o'er thy green
Where humble happiness endeared each scene."

WILLIAM F. McCONN, M.A., B.O.
PRESIDENT OF MARION COLLEGE
Four Years of Service

Marion College is passing another milestone of life with the closing of her sixteenth year. Throughout recent years we have battled against financial hazards which have shaken the economic structure of our country to its very foundation yet Marion College has been privileged under Divine Guidance to carry on and enlarge her ministry in the field of Christian education.

Marion College and the principles for which she stands live in the world today as a challenge to the forces of Agnosticism, Atheism, Communism and all other political or secular creeds which attempt to deny the individual his right to a vital, living, religious faith.

Marion College has been privileged this year to enroll one of the finest groups of young people to be found on any college campus. The President desires to express through this medium to them, to the families they represent, and to the friends of the college at large, his appreciation for the fine spirit of loyalty and cooperation which the student body has shown this year. We are now engaging in a student campaign for the summer with the goal set for a twenty per cent increase next September, and we are counting on a continuation of this spirit through our state clubs. In the four years that the writer has served Marion College he has never appealed to the student body to support a project which the college deemed to be worthwhile and failed to receive their support. He does not believe we shall fail in the attempt to see an increased number of young people gathering on the campus when school opens next September. Will you help bring or send one more?

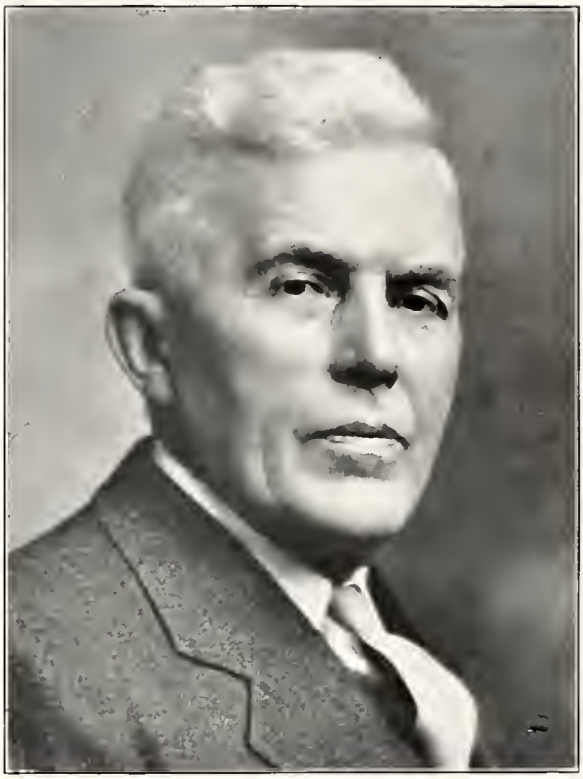
President



JOHN D. WILLIAMS
TREASURER
Fifteen Years of Service

Men do not find enduring satisfaction in life by owning something. It is only by becoming something, that life is at its best. The experiments of the last few years have been for many men, an adventure through which they have discovered their real wealth. With the loss of income they are discovering the strong sustaining power of a strong religious faith; and those abiding virtues such as courage, honor, charity. The deepest satisfactions of life—those which come from sharing and serving—remain secure.

To our young people who are graduating from College this year, you will enter the paths of a most interesting age, but our faith in the goodness of the world still remains. The prayers our mothers taught us and the faith in God instilled in us by devout fathers remain as priceless treasures. Let us hold to that pilgrim faith keeping our poise, preserving our past as far as it has worth, facing our future in the spirit of loyalty to the man of Galilee.

ACTIVITIES

The athletic activities of the school year, 1935-36 opened with the annual fall tennis tournament. In the finals for the women M. Thompson won over A. Koldyke, and in the men's R. Jones won over W. Newton.

Much interest was manifested in the soft-ball games. Of particular notice were the Buckeye victories over the Hoosiers, and the tie between the Eurekans and the Amphictyons, which could not be played off because of unfavorable weather conditions. Thus, tennis and soft-ball were brought to an abrupt close, and basketball, the major athletic activity of the winter season, was begun.

The members of the All-School Teams, pictured in the triangle, were selected by a faculty committee. The women thus honored were Thompson, Visher, Vorhies, Koldyke, E. Smith, and Fite, while the men ranking highest were Koch, Tennell, Taylor, Baker, and Jones.

Spring weather brought renewed interest in tennis, track, and an additional feature, touch-football. The awarding of trophies and school letters closed another successful and wholesome athletic program.

"One purpose, one harmonious spirit reigns,
To win for life all joy and common good."

"Thou noble edifice, re-echoing with sound of gymnast's feet,
Within thy walls do we through lure of pleasure oft retreat."

The Marionette portrays Marion College at work. It is the purpose of the yearbook to record in permanent form that which will revive pleasant memories, long after the year nineteen-hundred thirty-six has become history.

Incorporated in the administration section, as an additional feature this year, are personal messages from the President and Treasurer. These show the relationship that exists between the administration and the student body.

The attempt has been made not only to tell the story of this school year, so it may live again in the minds of the students, but also to inspire others with the spirit of Marion College.

The staff appreciates having had the privilege of publishing the Marionette, and takes this opportunity to acknowledge the cooperation of the faculty and student body as a whole in helping to make this yearbook possible. Special recognition is given to both the Amphictyon and Eureka Literary Societies for their enthusiastic participation in the sales contest which gave the Marionette the widest circulation in its history.

In order to view correctly the AMPHICTYON LITERARY SOCIETY one must be acquainted with the meaning of its name. The word Amphictyon was originally the Greek word for neighbor. The name itself, then, explains the friendly co-operation expected of and received from every member of the society.

In the first open program the Amphictyons stressed the importance of promoting and maintaining the high intellectual, spiritual, social, and literary standards of Marion College.

In the gymnasium on October 15, a party was given for the new members, who were introduced to the Amphictyon traditions.

The societies were well matched in the annual Marionette sales contest for the Eurekans won by only a narrow margin.

The Amphictyons also recognize the importance of athletics in the development of well-rounded personalities. The men's basket-ball team won in the tournament, while the women are to be congratulated for their effort and splendid sportsmanship.

The arch at the point of the Triangle, which was razed when the state road was widened, was rebuilt during the spring term. Thus, it is with satisfaction that the Amphictyons view the achievements of the past year and are looking into the future with confidence for the advancement of the society.

THE EUREKA LITERARY CLUB throughout another school year has maintained her watchword of friendliness, her spirit of cooperation, and her standard of high literary achievement. Individuals responsible for inspiring and directing the Club's activities were: president and secretary for fall term, Ronald Jones and Iona Brollier; winter term, L. H. Mayfield and Dorothy Barnett; spring term, Virginia Visher and Evelyn Sowers. For the actual planning and carrying out of the programs recognition is due those members who served on its program, publicity, and decorating committees.

For the first time in several years the Eurekans have out-numbered her fellow Amphictyons. After October 15, those students vitally interested in the principles for which the Eureka Literary Society stands, were received into full membership and charged with the duty of reflecting her admirable qualities.

The spirit of cooperation brought victory to the Club in the Marionette Sales Contest. The shield was awarded to the Eurekans for the second consecutive year.

Seldom do organizations or individuals reach the goal which they have set for themselves, but in the striving toward this goal they find success. So high has the standard of literary attainment been set by the members of the Eureka Literary Club that each year its senior members have quitted it with a feeling of failure and urged the members assuming duties for the new year to strive even more earnestly toward the worthwhile objectives. However, if one measures a literary society by its activities which are purely literary, the Eureka society will be found to rank high.

THE STUDENT CONFERENCE

The religious activities of Marion College are under the supervision of the Student Conference, an organization made up of those who are interested in the spiritual advancement and maintenance of holiness standards throughout the institution.

For 1935-36 Virgil Snyder was elected president, Gerald Clapsaddle, vice president, and Ralph Coleson, secretary. Those elected as evangelists were Olive Kindley, Maxine Scott, and Charles Ball.

These students have charge of the services conducted in different institutions located in the city of Marion, namely, the Children's Home, the Delta Electric Factory, the County Jail, and the Emily Flinn Home for elderly women. Each Tuesday evening the students and faculty gather in the auditorium for a prayer service. These meetings are times of inspiration and blessing to all. Here the Lord is worshipped in music, testimony, and the reading of His Word. From these meetings radiate the spiritual power of the College.

Y. M. W. B.

The Senior Y. M. W. B. is the organization of the college which assumes the responsibility of stimulating and maintaining a vital interest in missionary work. The first Sunday of the month the band meets to acquaint the students with the needs of the mission field. Once a week the noon prayer service is given over to the interest of missions.

The Annual Missionary Convention proved to be a time of spiritual awakening. Rev. and Mrs. P. D. Doty, returned missionaries from India, were the speakers and they brought inspirational messages emphasizing the great need of prayer. Pledges were again taken for the support of Rev. Frank Birch who is in Sierra Leone, West Africa.

The Marion College Community Chorus is an organization that has become recognized in this vicinity for the splendid rendition of Christmas and Easter numbers. In addition to creating interest in standard choral works this group has served to bring the college closer to the people of the city of Marion.

During the Christmas season the cantata, "The Christmas Dawn" by Charles Gilbert Spross was presented at the United States Veteran Hospital, the College Chapel, Jonesboro Methodist church, and the First M. E. Church of Marion, Indiana.

The presentation of the Lenten number, "Olivet to Calvary" by J. H. Maunder made one to realize anew those last scenes of the Passion Week.

On May 14, the Chorus appeared at the United States Veteran Hospital to participate in the observance of Veteran Hospital Day. The numbers rendered were "To Thee Oh Country" by Eicheberg and "My Faith Looks Up to Thee" by Schnecker.

THE MARION COLLEGE ORCHESTRA was organized for the purpose of promoting interest in instrumental music, and it is to be commended for the work it has done this year. Faithfulness in attendance at the weekly practice period has enabled this group to present enjoyable programs for chapel, commencement exercises, and to audiences outside the city of Marion. Interest in this organization has grown under the capable direction of Mr. Fred Reiter.

Bottom Row—Prof. Porter, Bradford, Newton, Tippy, Buckman, Cattell, Prof. Kershner.

THE CURRENT HISTORY CLUB in order to promote greater interest in present-day research in the fields of history and economics continued the program of activity as was begun by the organization last year. The club under the leadership of Marcel J. Lewis, and in cooperation with Professor Allen Bowman, faculty sponsor, secured well-known speakers to address the group throughout the year.

THE SCIENCE CLUB has had for its major interests radioactivity, cosmic rays, and quanta, as well as, other real and theoretical developments in the field of science. Students of mathematics, physics, zoology, and botany present the new developments in their departments. Outstanding leaders in these fields are invited to appear before the group to keep the members in direct contact with the progress of modern science.

THE COUNCIL OF CHEERFUL COMRADES, whose membership is composed of the women of Teter Hall, is one of the most active organizations of the school. Of the activities sponsored by this group, the Christmas Dinner is the most important. In cooperating with one another the girls feel that they have learned the real value of the spirit of good will and companionship.

THE WESTERNER'S CLUB, with Miss Emerson as sponsor, reports an increase in membership. The states represented are Colorado, Nebraska, Kansas, Oklahoma, S. Dakota, Iowa, Minnesota, Wisconsin, and Canada. The Club was organized to present western ideals 'o the school and in turn make Marion College known throughout the west. The spirit of cooperation has been manifested to promote fellowship and help maintain the spiritual standards of the school.

For twelve years the BUCKEYE CLUB has been organized to help maintain the standards of Marion College. The enrollment exceeds that of any state group except the one in which the College is located. The Buckeyes have participated in all phases of college activity and are outstanding in the field of athletics, the men being the champions in basketball and baseball.

THE HOOSIER CLUB, in its second year of organization, has the largest membership of any of the state clubs. With more than eighty members, its influence in promoting the interests of Marion College in Indiana and in aiding to maintain the high standards of the school is quite evident. The club has been active in many phases of college activity.

BOTTOM ROW—Harrington, Lawrence, Prof. Vess, Martin.
TOP ROW—Grody, Shupe, Krug, Prof. Bowman.
SECOND ROW—Hall, Avery, Snyder, Flach, Ford.
BOTTOM ROW—Masters, Dew, Reynolds, Coleson.

THE DIXIE CLUB, "Southern Colonels," which is composed of students from states south of the Mason-Dixon line, helps to maintain the promotion of interest in Marion College and to increase the enrollment of students from the sunny southland. Activities sponsored by the club included parties, luncheons, dinners, and the participation in tennis and basket-ball.

THE WOLVERINE CLUB has for its two-fold purpose the promotion of the interests of Marion College in Michigan and the maintenance of Christian standards on the campus. Although small in numbers the group is united in loyalty to the native state. During its two years of organization the members have participated in numerous school activities and have plans for its future in Marion College.

SIDELIGHTS OF 1935-1936

SEPTEMBER

9-10th—Registration and many new faces—some with lost expressions too.
11th—Classes begin. Poor freshmen!!
13th—Friday. Superstitious??? Faculty welcomes students at annual reception. Plenty of punch and wafers.
14th—What's the matter? Too much to eat last night?
17th—Practice teaching begins! Bring on the nerve tonic.
18th—Amphic initial open program. Paul Lawrence proves to be a walking dictionary. Buckeyes win victory over Hoosiers in baseball.
20th—Dr. and Mrs. Huffman welcome the members of Divinity School.
22nd—Stella Frances Goodman chosen to lead C. C. C. (Council of Cheerful Comrades, not Civilian Conservation Corps.)

NEW SCHOOL SONG

For sometime the need for a new school song has been felt—one that would be suitable for contests and inter-school activities. Prizes were offered for both the writing of the words and the music for such a song. It is with regret that because of the lateness of the date the music cannot appear in this book but the staff is happy to publish the words and to announce the winners in both contests.

For the writing of the music, both first and second places were awarded to Miss Dorothy West. The words were written by Keith L. Smith, first place and Russell Frey, second.

Onward to Victory

Dear ALMA MATER, we hold you most high;
For you then, OLD MARION, we'll do or we'll die.
Campus and classroom are urging us ever
Inspiring and helping each earnest endeavor.
So strive for the right, then
Strive with your might, then
Onward to victory.

Cheer for OLD MARION, you're tried and you're true,
Respected and honored, all the years through.
MARION COLLEGE, our love is sincere;
Fondly we'll cherish the days we spend here.
So strive for the right, then
Strive with your might, then
Onward to victory.

MARION COLLEGE still standing supreme
In the Triangle, to send as a gleam
God's love and grace through our action and thought,
In reverence we hold the truths that you've taught.
So strive for the right, then
Strive with your might, then
Onward to victory.

School Pep Song

Me for Marion! Dear old Marion!
  Down in the Hoosier land.
Back in Marion; our own Marion,
  Let me take my stand.
The world is full of roust-abouts,
  Let me go right on
Back to the school with the golden rules
  Me for Marion! Me for Marion!
    Ma-ri-on!

(RUSSELL FREY, 37)

CANDLE LIGHTING

Oh, Lord, as Thou hast shed Thy light
Upon my soul in deepest night
And Thy light so bright and strong
Hast burned out, purged its sin and wrong:
As Thou hast set my heart aflame
With love, O glory to Thy name,
May I my little light show forth
To East and West, to South and North
That others groping in the night
May find by my dim feeble light
The path in penitence to tread
To Thee, O Christ, the living Head
The Sun of Righteousness and Love
To light from Thy bright Torch above
Their candles small; which held aloft
Will guide still others times and oft
Till ever widening arcs of light
Shall compass all the earth with light.

May our dear school, to each so dear
E'er hold aloft His light so clear,
That all who come within her ray
May turn to Christ, the truth, the way.
And as we kindle candles right,
From this great Torch, the Master light,
May we resolve that the fair name
Of Marion College we'll not stain
But consecrated, Lord, for Thee
And Alma Mater, dear, that we
Will bear to all the world around
The light and love that here we've found,
Afar and near, until that time
When in that better, sunnier clime
We'll gather round that throne on high
In that fair country, bye and bye
And lay our candles at Christ's feet
As in our rapture, we repeat
In this fair country there is no night
For Thou art its eternal light.

(Read by Professor C. L. Mack at the Easter Breakfast.)

1. Can this be Elvie, a dignified senior?
2. Why walk when you can ride?
3. Just a "little Flach."

DISTRACTIONS IN MARIONETTE OFFICE

Now, let me see, this cut just won't work here. Oh my! Go answer the phone, Brollier. Who's playing that squeaky violin, and there goes that weird "Moon Over Miami" to grate on my ears for the third time tonight.

What's banging on the door? Oh, well—come in. What! Ice cream!! Yes, come right in.

Well!!! This is the third time I've gone through the dummy and I can't find any place where this copy fits. Umm, these cookies I brought from the dining hall really taste good at this time of night.

Only seven o'clock; we should get quite a bit of copy done this evening. What's this? A group of students discussing a recent occurrence on the campus. S'long, Marionette work, I'll see you later.

Fifty words more and I'll have this article done. Oooo, there's a mouse in the waste-basket. Quick! Quick! A chair! A chair!

Here comes Professor Young who will tell us to quit work and go to bed—then he'll sit down and philosophize for an hour.

PURPOSE

Not for the sake of gold,
  Not for the sake of fame,
Not for the prize would I hold
  Any ambition or aim.
I would be brave and be true,
Just for the good I can do.

I would be useful on earth,
  Serving some purpose or cause,
Doing some labor of worth,
  Giving no thought of applause.
Thinking less of the gold or the fame
Than the joy and the thrill of the game.

Medals their brightness may lose,
  Fame be forgotten or fade,
Any reward we may choose
  Leaves the account still unpaid
But the real happiness lies
In fighting alone for a prize.

Give me the thrill of the task,
  The joy of the battle and strife,
Of being of use and I will ask
  No greater reward from this life.
Better than fame or applause
Is striving to further a cause.

EDGAR A. GUEST.

PURPOSE

To further the advancement of South Marion and its institutions, among which Marion College is one of the most important, were we organized.

To Marion College, its Alumni, and its future students our Club offers full cooperation, that we together may realize the reward of striving to further a cause.

South Marion Business Men's Club.

AN APPRECIATION

The publication of a yearbook is financially impractical without the aid of the advertisers.

The Marionette Staff desires to acknowledge the cooperation that both individuals and firms have shown toward student activity. We desire to encourage patronage to these merchants.

The nurse was looking at little Martha with suspicion.

"What have you been doing Martha?"

"I've been punishing Fido. He teared my dolly, and I punished him."

"How did you punish him?"

"I went to his kennel and I drinked his milk."

I. E. CARTER, Mgr.

Marcel L.—(Philosophizing) — Why can't men be like women, get married and have some one else support them?

Well I suppose a "good nurse" could take care of you and make a living.

"Can you tell me," said the Scotchman to the American, "why we Scotch have the gift of humor?"

"I suppose", said the American "because it's a gift."

John Philip Sousa's idea of jazz is expressed in the following comment—"Jazz will endure as long as people hear it through their feet instead of their brains."

"Life is a market. Everything costs Nothing is given free. If it is, it's not worth having. Willingness to pay is the price of success."

Your criticism of another often is your verdict on yourself."
